International Environmental Services

Member of the Hudson International Group

International Environmental Services (IES) is a specialized consulting firm built upon a strong foundation of technical experts dedicated to serving insurance and legal professionals in the fields of soils, geology, geophysics, hydrology and the environmental sciences.

IES provides cost effective claim investigation and litigation support services in areas involving:

- Air Quality
- Asbestos
- Blasting
- Dams
- Dredging
- Excavation
- Flooding
- Foundation
- Groundwater
- Hazardous Materials
- Landfills
- Mold
- Retaining Walls
- Settlement
- Sinkholes
- Tunnels

IES provides an additional service to clients facing environmental issues on land and water, or in the air. We have performed simple and complex analyses concerning hazardous waste sites, leaking storage tanks, air quality, asbestos or lead abatement, as well as toxic mold infestations and remediations.

In a highly technical and rapidly changing area with critical time restraints, International Environmental Services can make a positive difference.

Property & Liability

The Hudson International Group consultants and technical experts have been involved in the successful resolution of thousands of general insurance claims. We provide the same high quality professionals in both large and small claims across the nation, serving insurance carriers, their independent adjusters, and legal representatives through our investigative services and litigations support.
